To whom it may concern,

It is my pleasure to offer my recommendation for Ana Beatriz Albertini Dantas as a freelance Product Designer.

I've been working with Mrs. Dantas since December 2015. We started developing a luxury collection of iPhone cases, when I was living in Berlin, and from that point forward I knew Ana would be a great asset moving forward. She easily understood my briefs and developed precise 3D models on a tight timeline, and also completed full prototyping.

As the founder of different brands in New York (Q Designs, Lucky Strike NYC, Ambrose) focused in high technology and fashion, I am always looking for concepts and products. Ana became one of our most valuable freelance designers because of her efficiency in developing the concepts and transforming them in a physical working prototype, always concerned with testing and assisting the production until we achieve a satisfying high-end product.

One of Ana's most appreciated qualities is her very positive attitude. She is always open and enthusiastic about the different projects, with no negative feelings, showing true passion for her work. In addition, she always delivers a high level of work ethic, so whenever a project comes up, I feel confident about the output.

I believe Ana has a very high potential and would be an outstanding addition to any team. I would have no reservations about working with her again and am confident in recommending Ana as a freelance Product Designer. If you have any further questions about Ana's skills, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

James Kernan
